SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21 1878.

Mr. Geo. Boliver has sold the TIMES to Stiles R. Mellichamp and W. A. Edwards, but in consequence of his sudden sickness, which has confined him to his room since Monday, the papers could not be signed in time for the salutatory to appear in this issue.

We will only say that the paper will be purely and strictly Democratic, and that the interests of subscribers and advertisers will be carefully looked after.

Christmas.

The return of this season which should bring pleasure and happiness to all hearts, we hail with joy, and sincerely hope that the cares of life being for a while cast aside, we may indulge in the recollection of former years, and the scattered members of the home circle being reunited, we may enjoy the sweet companionship of our loved ones.

In dropping a tear to the memory of those who have passed away since the last recurrence of this happy season, whose dear faces once beamed brightly into ours, whose loving arms once so fondly encircled us, and whose merry laugh even now rings in our ears, is but following the dictates of an affection which the Almighty has implanted in the human breast; but, that the mind should continually brood over these things which we regard as afflictions, is standing obstinately in the pathway of a kind and beneficent Providence who does nothing but for our good.

Then let us all welcome this day with a gladness that will disperse itself everywhere, and at our homes let there be such cheerfulness and gaiety that will long be remembered with feelings of pleasure and happiness.

The children—Heaven bless their little hearts—always look upon this day "wherein our Saviour's birth is celebrated" as a season of unalloyed festivity, and we trust that nothing will be done on the part of those whose greatest pleasure ought to be to cheer them in their fairy gambols and innocent laughter, to check or disturb their harmless, joyous mirth.

Some of the greatest pleasures of our lives spring from the associations which this season connects with our childish days, and we feel an inexhaustible happiness in the delusions which win us back to them, and help us see ourselves as we then were.

A happy happy day is this to the little ones who have anticipated its approach with brightened eyes and expectant hearts; and may all that follow it be still happier to them, with nothing to cause a cloud to darken their pathway or fill their little hearts with gloom.

May each succeeding Christmas, as it rolls round upon the great wheel of time find us all ready to welcome it with joyous hearts, a peaceful country, and a reverent gratitude for the blessings of a merciful Providence.

A Warning to the Colored People

Mr. Page, a Republican member of Congress, introduced a resolution a few days ago recommending that the South be allowed representation in Congress only in proportion to the number of the white population. This, taken in connection with the significant sound proceeding from Republican sources around the Capitol, points strongly to an abridgment of negro suffrage by the Republican party.

Democrats however are convinced of the importance to them of these 36 additional votes in the National Councils, the result of this suffrage, and will resist every attempt at any abridgment of the rights of the colored man. How important then for the colored man to make his peace with the Democrats at once and work with them for the interest of a despised South.

We are having a spell of cold weather.

Senator Hampton.

During the first of the week the greatest solicitude was felt throughout the entire State in view of the critical condition of our beloved leader.

The reports at this time indicated alarming tendencies, but the glad tidings of Wednesday expressing the belief that the crisis had passed, sent a thrill of joy to every heart from the mountains to the seaboard. The loss of Hampton at this time would be as disastrous as the loss of a General in battle at the very point of victory.

There is much work to be done yet before we can say that our political status is safe. We need the leadership of our best men to carry us safely through the storm which is darkening the political horizon of 1880. Already its thunderings are heard in the Halls of Congress which will henceforth be the principal theatre of a nation.

For this field to which Senator Hampton has been so promptly selected we trust that he may soon be transferred in the complete restoration of health.

With Hampton and Butler in the Senate South Carolina will be represented as of yore, and we may feel that our interests are safe.

The Legislature.

The Legislature is progressing rapidly with business.

A Bill to amend an Act to provide for the past indebtedness of the County of Orangeburg; also a Bill to amend an Act concerning the indebtedness of the School Districts of the County of Orangeburg passed to a third reading.

The principal bone of contention has been the Bond Court. On Monday a motion to abolish this Court was lost by a vote of 59 to 56, showing considerable change in sentiment in favor of the "Destructionists."

On Tuesday a Bill was offered by Mr. Murray and passed providing for the money held in the Treasury for the payment of the interest on the public debt to be used as a part of this year's appropriation for the taxes. This bill caused a lively debate, but the result is that only 24 mills exclusive of the school tax will be levied for State purposes.

The debt question which was decided on Tuesday was reconsidered and modified on Wednesday under the protest of Col. Simonton, C. R. Miles and others who are in favor of paying the interest on the public debt.

The consequence will be that the rate of taxation for the State will now be higher than the 24 mills reported above.

Stand to the Rack.

Our legislators very patriotically and properly passed a resolution to adjourn sine die on the 23d. There are now, however, some indications of filibustering in the Senate, but we hope there will be no prolongation of the session.

Legislation at a thousand dollars a day is a rather expensive luxury.

Congressional.

Senators Bayard, Wallace, Garland and Bailey have been selected by the Democrats to serve on the Blaine Committee which will come South during the recess to examine into election matters.

The Iron-Clad Oath has been abolished.

The following resolution was passed by our recent Democratic County Convention in compliment to our retiring County Chairman:

Resolved, That this Convention recognizes and appreciates the self-sacrifice, labor and devotion which has characterized the conduct of Gen. James F. Izlar as County Chairman and while it accepts his resignation of this important office, it appreciates but regrets the fact that his circumstances and private business are of such a nature as to compel him to give up the office.

Resolved, That this Convention extends to General Izlar its best wishes for his continued usefulness and success in this life.

Also the following appropriate expression of sympathy to our stricken Governor:

Whereas, This Convention, the representatives of the Democracy of Orangeburg, have heard with deep and thrilling sorrow, of the sufferings of our heroic Governor; and while harrowed with the recital of his sufferings we have found another reason compelling our admiration and love in his affliction and his fortitude and endurance; and applauding the courage of our Representatives in the General Assembly, in adding another and the chiefest honor to his name, in electing him to the U. S. Senate:

Resolved, That we, in the name of the good people of our County, tender to our Chiefman, our sympathy in his suffering and our gratulation at the honors fittingly bestowed upon him.

At a meeting of the "Easterlin's Mills" Democratic Club on Saturday, 7th inst., the following resolutions were adopted and ordered published in the Orangeburg papers:

Resolved, That this Club feel it due to the retiring Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Democratic party of this county, Gen. Jas. F. Izlar, that they give expression to the deep sense of gratitude, that they owe to him for his long continued services and devotion to the best interests of the county; the ability, untiring energy and perseverance with which he watched over and guided the political affairs to a triumphant victory.

Resolved, That in James. Browne, Esq., Trial Justice, we recognize an able and efficient officer, who has discharged the duties of his office to the entire satisfaction of all law-abiding citizens of this community. We therefore respectfully present his name to his Excellency the Governor for re-appointment as Trial Justice. (Extract from minutes.)
